The Board of Trade committee are discussing plans for a night show to be held and for other events that would start the affair off on the Friday evening. As plans progress announcements of various events will be made.

Ed Howard Is Transferred

Ed Howard, manager of The Canadian Bank of Commerce at Coleman for the past four years, has this week received notice of transfer to a larger branch in the Peace River.

Mrs. Howard and three children, Sharon, David and Teddy will accompany Mr. Howard to his new post on June 9th.

During the past four years Mr. Howard has taken a very active part in community affairs in Coleman, being secretary-treasurer of St. Alban's Vestry in Coleman, treasurer of the Anglican Parish Council of the Crow's Nest Pass, treasurer of the Boy Scouts and Cub committee as well as being a Cubmaster.

Mr. Howard was also treasurer of the Lions Club and acted as chairman in charge of the bingo committee to raise funds for community work and charities. He was also secretary to the Coleman Board of Trade and did much in promoting the Coleman Rodeo and other Board of Trade functions. His absence in Coleman will be felt by all.

Mr. Howard will be replaced by S. H. Fred Macleod, who is at present an accountant at the Lethbridge main office of the Bank of Commerce. Mr. Macleod is married and has one child. He arrived here on June 8th to take over his new duties.

Feted At Party Outing

Ed Howard of Coleman, who will be leaving town this month for Peace River, was honored at an occasion held at Crow's Nest Lake Sunday evening.

To bid farewell to an active member some 100 members and their wives of the Coleman Lions Club and the Coleman Board of Trade gathered at the pavilion where a fried chicken supper, prepared by Jim Montalbetti and Jack Colwell, was enjoyed.

The affair marked the Lions annual outing for the Lions and their wives and games such as volleyball, horse shoes and lawn bowling, organized by Gordon Dunford, John Owen and Graham Atkinson, were much enjoyed by all.

During the affair Lions President Ted Kryczka, called upon Mr. Howard and presented him with an engraved desk pen set. In making the presentation Mr. Kryczka outlined some of the work Mr. Howard had done during his stay in the Pass and pointed out that his leaving the district will be felt by all as "Ed" had spearheaded many community projects to a successful climax.

Board of Trade President Roy Upton, also called upon Mr. Howard and presented him with a gift in appreciation of the work done by Mr. Howard to better the community. Mr. Howard also responded for both farewell gifts and in doing so expressed his regrets at leaving Coleman but planned to visit here occasionally.

Decoration Day

The B.P.O. Elks honored their departed brothers on Decoration Day, June 5, by placing a plant on each grave.

The Order of the Royal Purple also paid tribute to their departed sisters on the same date.

Westhavers Honored At Farewell Party

Members of the Alberta Civil Service Association, Branch No. 9, held a farewell party in the Catholic hall, Coleman, on Saturday, May 28, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. L. Westhaver, of Blainmore, an employee in the Forestry branch office, who has been transferred to Edmonton.

At 7:30 p.m. all sat down to a delicious turkey supper in the banquet room, conceived and served by the ladies of the Catholic Women's League. Mr. W. Harper of Bellevue, returned thanks.

Mr. W. Harper then called guests to order. He called upon Mr. Anthony Farnshaw, president of the Alberta Civil Service Association, of Edmonton, and Mr. R. Harrison, executive secretary of Edmonton, both of whom gave short addresses.

Mr. A. A. Herford, chief ranger of this Forestry branch, presented the honored guests, Mr. and Mrs. Westhaver, with a farewell gift and voiced his regrets at their departure but wished them every success in their new location.

Mr. J. Hogan then presented Mr. Westhaver with a corsage, for which he was ably thanked. Mr. Hogan, chairman of branch No. 9, then presented the honored couple on behalf of the DPW with a gift and stated that they would be missed by the members of the Forestry branch and the DPW and extended his best wishes for the future and happiness in their future place of abode.

Mr. and Mrs. Westhaver in a few well-chosen words, expressed their sincere thanks for the gifts and the kind wishes.

A social evening and dance was enjoyed by all present until midnight.

St. Paul's United Church Picnic

St. Paul's United Church congregation and Sunday School picnic will be held on Monday, June 20th after 4 p.m. at the park.

Each family is requested to bring lunch and their own dishes. Coffee and pop will be served all the adherents of the church and children of the Sunday School will be welcome.

Let us make it a good picnic-weather permitting.

Always do right. This will gratify some people, and will astonish the rest.

Sports Association Meet

The Coleman Sports Association held a meeting Sunday evening May 29, when President George Jenkins presented the financial report prepared by Secretary Bert Bond, showing that the Association had operated at an approximate $1,000 deficit compared to the former year.

Mr. Jenkins pointed out that this drop in revenue had occurred due to several factors such as a decrease of about $200 from hockey gates, a decrease of about $300 from the concession booth which the Association had handled last year and this year had leased out. Increased costs of electrical power due to installation of artificial ice had also accounted for some $400. Increased costs of electricity had also increased costs due to warm weather necessitating longer operation of the artificial ice plant.

At the conclusion of the meeting held in the town hall and attended by some 15 members, a vote of thanks was extended to the executive for the work they had done during the past season.

Two Coleman Couples Visiting Scotland

Mr. and Mrs. Jock Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morris, all of Coleman, left town for Calgary Wednesday, June 1, where they boarded a TWA airlines plane for Scotland on Friday.

While in their homeland Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey will visit several of Mr. Ramsey's brothers and sisters, and also with Mrs. Ramsey's relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris will also visit relatives in various parts of Scotland. The four will return to Coleman together after a four month visit in their homeland.

While Mr. Ramsey is in Scotland, a Jenkins of Coleman will act as secretary of the Coleman branch of the United Mine Workers of America.

Royal Purple Day

June 1st was observed as Royal Purple Day when the members of the Order of the Royal Purple set aside the afternoon to visit Coleman patients in the Crow's Nest Pass Hospital, also shown in pictures at their homes in town. Each was recipient of a hamper of fruits and sweets.

Special Occasion In Catholic Church On Sunday

Miss Constance Marconi of Coleman had the honor Sunday evening of Crowning Our Lady of Providence in the Coleman Holy Ghost Catholic Church.

The affair got underway at 7:00 p.m. Sunday, May 29, when the Catechism children and the members of the Catholic Girls' Club held a procession and marched from the Catholic hall into the Church for the special occasion.

Miss Marconi, who is president of the Girls' Club, marched down the aisle and up to the altar, followed by little Brenda Getzman, who carried the crown of roses on a silver pillow.

Two young lads, David Truch and Domenico Pavilanzar carried two large baskets of flowers which were set on stands alongside the statue. Following the crowning ceremony Father Healy of Cowley, conducted a special sermon for the occasion.

Coleman Pucksters Win Two

Last Sunday Coleman Pucksters played hosts to the Burda, Mont, team, and downed the visitors to the tune of 6-4 in an afternoon game and again to the tune of 16-2 in an evening game.

An ingenious dental office featuring the latest equipment and capable of being carried in the trunk and back seat of an automobile, has been purchased by the Wetoka Health Unit at Wetoka, Okla. The equipment, manufactured by a Canadian firm, will be used by the Unit dentist for school dental inspection within the Unit.

The whole equipment is carried collapsed in three duraluminum cabinets, each weighing approximately 40 pounds, and one case for the dental chair. In addition to enclosing the instruments and supplies for travel, the three cabinets are stacked to form a cupboard and sink shelf when the unit is assembled.

An electrically driven high speed drill with foot control is attached to one edge of the stacked cabinets while a set of two focused spotlights are fastened to the other edge. A circular working tray swings out from the front and a top case contains a set of small drawers to hold the dentist's instruments.

Below the drill is a stainless steel sink with a faucet arrangement. An electric cord and a water hose are part of the kit and when connected to outlets complete the working office.

The chair is assembled from tubular steel and is leather upholstered on the seat and back rest. The total time required for complete assembly of the equipment is 15 minutes. The cost of the equipment is $2000, considerably less than a trailer office and offers greater mobility.

Other Health Units are considering this equipment for their preventive dental program. In addition the Department of Public Health will provide two or three sets of similar equipment on a loan free basis to dentists in private practice who wish to visit an outlying area for a period of two weeks or more to provide dental services to the community at large on a private practice basis. This latter plan will be in operation this summer through the co-operation of the dental association and senior dental students.

The inspection and survey of school students is part of a program of dental health initiated during 1959 by the Alberta Department of Public Health. Wetoka Health Unit employs a full time dentist while some of the other units will be appointing a temporary dentist who will work with a dental auxiliary.

A school student is not checked for dental trouble without the consent of the parents, who must sign a card giving permission for the inspection. Any serious dental disorders are noted on the record and a copy given to the parent who may have the matter corrected by the local dentist. At the end of the inspection the student's teeth are given a topical application of fluoride to lessen the incidence of decay.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Put a Shine On It

"Everything Jim does, he puts a shine on it."

I had never met Jim, so I asked what the heck such a description meant. — Did he go around with a dust cloth or something?

No, she said, he just makes everything so much more fun. Never does anything just an ordinary way, even washing dishes, painting the garage, or talking to you. He makes everything special. You ought to see how dishes shine when he dries them!

I said he must be one of those fussy, finicky, boring perfectionists.

He is definitely not boring, I was told. He is everything else but boring. He makes the day bright, the conversation important, dish washing a lot less tiring, and garage painting an adventure. He's so darn alive most men look dead beside him.

So I had to meet Jim. I went far out of my way to do it, too, but I'm glad. He is special. He brightens you up. I found that just being with him was an event, and afterwards I tried to figure out why.

For one thing, Jim is a very positive fellow — he is for a lot of things, against very few. In any situation he seems to select the good points and put the emphasis on them. You soon get carried along by his buoyant mood and you see possibilities for growth all about you.

"Jim has taken a lot of lickings in business," a cynic told me. "He jumps in where angels fear to tread. He's a sucker for any new idea or proposition. Some day he'll bump into a smart guy who'll really take him to the cleaners."

Well, maybe. So far, Jim has done all right. Fact is, he has made himself wealthy, and had a wonderful time doing it.

Perhaps he has been "taken" a few times; but he has opened his mind to so many successful ideas that the few flops haven't meant much in his career. Even in failure, there'd be a glow about him. — He'd never collapse. It would take a heap of ruin to block his view of the road up ahead.

Perhaps we'd all be better off with a bit of Jim's approach. When we tackle our next job, let's try to put a shine on it!

NATURAL GAS EXPORT STATED UNLIMITED

"The use of natural gas is expected to be the fastest growing form of energy in Canada for the next 20 years." The Royal Commission Report on Canada's Economic Prospects makes this statement. Dr. R. F. Burton, president and chairman of Canadian Gas and Energy Investments Ltd. and noted energy consultant, predicts that the potential for exporting natural gas to the United States is almost unlimited.

The present consumption of natural gas is 203 billion cubic feet per year, or 10,000 cubic feet per capita. By 1980, it is estimated that consumption will reach two trillion cubic feet or 25,000 cubic feet per capita. Present reserves are in excess of 27 trillion cubic feet and are expected to reach 300 trillion cubic feet by 1980.

The question of marketing the vast reserves of natural gas in various parts of Canada was, for a period, a vexing one. The creation of pipe lines and transmission systems have allayed any fears concerning surplus reserves and the completion of some pipe lines have been described as Canada's most modern engineering feats.

The completion of various natural gas pipe lines is heralding the foundation for myriad new industries. Their existence has brought better techniques to many industries and they have brought the enjoyment of ultra-modern living to millions of Canadians along the route. Pipe lines are patrolled regularly from the air and staffs of maintenance men keep a watchful eye on the lines that stretch across Canada.

Both east and west, bringing nature's energy to man and industry.

In order to fully understand the potential export value of natural gas, one has to look to the United States where in 1958, natural gas served 41 million customers and accumulated a business turnover of four and a half billion dollars. In 1960 natural gas in the United States provided only 4.4 per cent of the total energy used. By 1938, 12 per cent of energy used was provided by natural gas and in 1953 the figure has risen to 28 per cent.

Potential markets in adjoining areas of the United States will doubtlessly exceed Canada's ability to serve them. Assuming, however, that supplies of natural gas were readily forthcoming, — sales of as much as 3,000 billion or even 4,000 billion cubic feet might be made annually to United States users by 1980.

There are various companies interested in selling to the United States and recent developments in the transmission of natural gas through a wide network of pipe lines assures an immediate market for what we have to sell. As a result of continuous exploration estimates of gas reserves in Canada are now enough for 70 years consumption.

A Salute to Alberta's Ukrainian Pioneers and their Descendants

From a photograph of Ukrainian women tending an outdoor bake oven in the Vegreville area about 1905.

These are the now-famed "men and women in sheepskin coats"—plentiful poor Ukrainian peasants who, under the Sifton immigration scheme of the late 19th and early 20th centuries, came by the trainload to homestead the broad sweeps of the Canadian prairies.

Their costumes—embroidered sheepskin coats, straw-stuffed sandals, the long sooriet hemp skirts of the women—were virtually a uniform. But the vigor and enthusiasm with which they launched themselves on their new tasks, and the inborn knowledge which they brought to the grain-growing industry soon brought honor to that uniform. Today, with Ukrainian-Canadian agricultural settlements among the most prosperous in the province, and with Canadian-born second and third generation Ukrainians prominent in governmental, business and professional fields, there is no prouder heritage than that of "Sifton's Sheepskins."

Another proud westerner, the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co. Ltd., acknowledges—together with all Albertans—the contribution of the Ukrainian ethnic group.

Canadian rule of the Canadian way of business life is to produce what consumers want at prices consumers will pay. Only alternative is bankruptcy.

Sixty years ago it took 100 man hours of work to produce 100 bushels of Canadian wheat. Today the man hour requirement, because of machinery is 25.
